Game Type

The infectious gameplay of Zombies makes it a party favourite – How long will you survive?

All players start on the Red Team and very soon after the game starts, several players switch to the Green Team (zombies). The zombies can be killed by the Red Team, and must then stand in front of any arena component to get respawned.

When a zombie kills a Red player, the Red player will switch to the Green Team. Once all players are Green, the game will cycle, turning everyone Red, and reselecting some players to be Green (at random).

Survive the longest to score the most points!

All Arena Components are used as Zombie Respawn Points.
